

Competitive Improvement Workshop Series — Summer 2008

Location — Great Hall Games, 5501 N. Lamar (Suite A-135) in Central Austin

Daily schedule ... Monday thru Friday, 10AM–5PM (earliest drop-off at 9AM, latest pick-up at 6PM)

Session 1	Session 2	Session 3	Session 4	Session 5	Session 6
June 16–20	July 7–11	July 14–18	July 21–25	August 4–8	August 11–15

Each workshop session is limited in size to 16–18 participants and split into two groups based on age, rating and competitive experience. Minimum rating and experience levels are USCF 400 and three tournaments. We will consider marginal cases based on a local chess instructor's recommendation and/or other relevant factors! Our recommended minimum academic level is "2nd Grade Graduate" — although we do have a lot of fun, these workshops are not chess camps. Since several hours a day are spent in a classroom setting, during which all students will need to maintain discipline and focus, parents should carefully consider their children's proclivities and expectations.

Fluency in notation skills (both reading and writing) and familiarity with common chess terms and expressions are a necessary requirement for attendance. We do require the recording of training games by all participants. We suggest that every prospective registrant practice this essential skill well in advance of the scheduled workshops ... we will be happy to suggest exercises and training methods! If you have any uncertainties with regard to the above requirements, please contact the instructors for consultation.

We should also mention that each of these summer workshops will be very different in content, so neither "picking and choosing appropriate subjects" nor "repetition of material" will be a concern for parents. The instructors will present a variety of level-appropriate major and minor subjects, with exercises and training games (followed by class review) to develop a deeper understanding of the topics. There will also be daily "combined group" activities: chess news, interactive discussions, team games and challenges ...

Grand Prix!! — This Summer, the workshop series will offer more than just serious instruction, training games and mini-events ... the best results of each session's participants will be entered into a competition for exciting prizes!

"Grand Prix Points" earned by the highest scorers from each section of each group in their workshop's weekly events will be entered into a "series best" hierarchy to vie for a selection of prizes. Based on 48 entries, two overall, and four sectional prizes will be awarded at the end of the workshop series! Prizes: 1st Place –a gift basket with Chess Assistant 9.1, Chess Openings with 3.1 million games, and Rybka 2.3.2 (the strongest computer engine available); other prizes include individual training titles addressing tactics, middle-game strategy, endgame and opening study!!

Reservations and Fees Acceptance Policies

Reservation Fee — There is a $50 non-refundable reservation fee for each workshop session. This fee is applied to the total workshop cost. See the registration form for details.

Site conditions and the workshop mission dictate that applicants conform to certain requirements:

The venue is a retail store – we have contracted to use two rooms located in the back area of the store where there is a restroom, a small kitchen and a snack vending machine. None of the participants can be allowed out of this area during the entire workshop period – all students must be mature and cooperative enough to understand and endure these constraints!

Students will be allowed in only after 9:00 am and must be picked up before 6:00 pm! “School” is 10-5!

Parents should provide lunches and snacks and perhaps change for the snack machine and drinks. It is also acceptable if parents wish to bring their child lunch at the appropriate time.

This edition of the Advanced Competitive Workshop will be divided into two groups — by rating and careful consideration of some balancing factors — experience and age. Each group will be appropriately challenged and tested using our time-honed skills and with their best interests in mind!
